2ND. REGIMENT IS THE LARGEST

Probably Is Only Regiment
In United States Over
War Strength

The Second Wisconsin infantry is the only regiment in the Badger State guard that is recruited above war strength, and probably is the mightiest fighting unit in the entire national guard. The war footing is exceeded by 127, in Col. Lee's command. There are four companies below the war strength of 153 officers and men, but the others have a sufficient number of additional men to more than make up the deficiency of the four. Those below war strength are H. Manitowish, lacking 43; K. Beaver Dam, lacking 31; C. Sheboygan, lacking 24; and B. Oshkosh, lacking 22.

The following are the companies over war strength, the figures being in addition to the 153: C. Appleton, 58; A. Marshfield, 56; M. Oconto, 43; D. Ripon, 27; L. Rhinelander, 25; E. Fond du Lac, 15; I. Marinette, 15; F. Oshkosh, 5, and Machine Gun, Ashland 10.

In addition to those, the supply company, Oshkosh; headquarters company, Appleton and Marshfield; Sanitary troops, Appleton, are all at war strength. The Marshfield is above war strength.

The regiment now has 2,222 officers and men. Recruiting is being continued in all companies. With 12,500 officers and men in the Wisconsin National guard the Ninth congressional district probably leads the congressional districts of the state with the number of men now with the colors. In the three cities in the Second regiment in that district there are the following numbers: Appleton 8 officers and 263 men; Oconto 5 officers and 193 men; Marinette 2 officers and 166 men; all organizations being of war strength. Of the new organizations Green Bay has two battalions at war strength with 294 men and officers; Shawano has 1 officer and 144 men; Sturgeon Bay has at least 100, Antigo about 120 and Kaukauna 45.

Bowler, a place of 175 population twenty miles from Shawano, no doubt has the recruiting record for the United States. Thirty have enlisted there.

BRAKEMAN HURT

Late Friday afternoon Norman McDonald, brakeman on a Chicago & Northwestern work train, met with an accident near Lac du Flambeau which resulted in the loss of part of his right foot.

McDonald was standing on the foot board of the engine when he slipped, his foot going under the wheels. He was rushed to this city on a special train and taken to St. Mary's hospital where it was necessary to amputate all the toes of the injured foot.

Mr. and Mrs. H. McDonald of Antigo, parents of the young man, arrived here Saturday morning.

WEEKS' WEDDINGS

Sunday the wedding party drove to the home of the groom's parents at Hal Rapids where they had dinner.

U. S. POTATO DRYING
PLANT FOR RHINELANDER

Through the establishment in this city of a government potato drying plant, the only one of its kind in the United States, Rhinelander is again about to come in for national wide attention. The plant is now situated in Arlington, Va., but will soon be moved to this city, according to the assurance given by the Rhinelander Advancement association by Dr. H. E. Horton, who has been acting for the government in seeking a new location for the plant.

Dr. Horton was induced to locate the industry in this city thru the efforts of Secretary E. O. Barstow and members of the Rhinelander Advancement association. Dr. Horton met with the directors of the association in the city hall Monday night and informed them that he considered Rhinelander the most logical place for the plant and had telegraphed his decision to the government.

The plant at Arlington is valued at about $50,000 and will be moved complete to this city. A company with $5,000 capital has been organized to conduct the business.

The drying of potatoes is almost unknown here in the United States, while in Germany it is a well established, profitable business.

In Europe potato flour is used regularly, and special cook books are published for its utilization in all kinds of bakery goods. The accustomed to the use of potato immigrants from northern Europe flour, have created a market for that commodity in this country. In 1913, the last government report we could obtain showed 16,710,183 lbs. of potato flour and starch imported. The war cut off the supply, but the demand still exists and there is an excellent chance to make big money manufacturing potato flour in this country from the unsalable potatoes and the culls, now almost a total loss.

Potato flakes can be turned almost instantaneously into mashed potatoes, the great American National Dish, and when put up in neat and attractive cartons, sold at the grocery, the flakes certainly will find a ready market. In mining and logging camps, where fresh potatoes are scarce, flakes would fill a long felt want. Flakes would also be welcomed by the busy housewife in large cities. "Bring to a boil and serve," which has been the slogan for other countries would be appreciated, and accepted to save the trouble of boiling and mashing of potatoes.

But where potato flakes will become indispensable, once introduced, will be in the Army and Navy and the fitting out of camping parties. Other vegetables can be canned, but the canning of potatoes has not proved to be a success. Dried potatoes can be kept almost indefinitely, and besides this, another marked advantage of the drying process is that it reduces the weight of the potato about three-fourths, and this permits the shipping of the potatoes in dried form great distances without the danger of deterioration.

Before the European war the Chicago importers sold potato flour at 5 and 6 cents per pound in bulk. Added to the use of flakes for human consumption potato flakes is a most important feedstuff for farm animals.

Horses eat the flakes readily and during a long period show no aversion to the food. Fed on flakes the animals have a noticeable "better fed" look, and they perform hard work without any bad effect. No indigestible food is found where flakes are fed. Colic is less common. Health, working capacity and endurance are maintained by the use of potato flakes.

If space permitted the same good effects could be described when the potato flakes is used for swine. Naturally potato flakes lacks protein matter, and this substance must be supplied by one of the other ingredients of the ration. (This is true of the other feedstuffs having high starch content.)

Naturally different means have been proposed for drying potatoes, but one only has forged ahead to become a commercial success.

The successful process is one of great simplicity and consequently lends itself perfectly to the establishment of the small country unit, the ideal end. The process consists in steaming carefully cleaned potatoes, mashing and drying the mashed material on revolving steam cylinders.

COUNCIL GRANTS $15,000 TO HELP BUILD STEVENS' MILL

By a unanimous vote the city council passed a resolution at a special meeting Friday night to give the Stevens Lumber company a bonus of $15,000 to be used toward the rebuilding of the company's saw mill plant in this city. It is ascertained from officials of the Stevens Lumber company that work on the erection of the new mill will be started without delay. That the plant will be ready for operation in the early fall is probable.

The council granted the $15,000 to the company on the recommendation of the investigating committee, named for that purpose, consisting of Mayor Clark, City Attorney Reeves, Aldermen Wright, Gilligan and Skubal.

Through the action of the council the Stevens Lumber company and the Mason-Donaldson Lumber company, with which concern the former company has a sawing contract, will continue to be numbered among the business interests of Rhinelander.

SAVES PENNIES TO BUY BOND

Master James Lyle, son of Lieutenant and Mrs. A. J. Lyle, has the distinction of being the youngest purchaser of a liberty loan bond in this city. With money which "Jim" saved from the sale of the Saturday Evening Post he bought a fifty dollar bond last Thursday. He told no one of his intention of purchasing the bond, not even his parents, and it was with a feeling of pride that he displayed his receipt as evidence that he had "done his bit."

"Jim" is one of the hustlers for the Saturday Evening Post here and saves his pennies for the foundation for a future business career.

HEAR ARGUMENT ON INJUNCTION

Arguments were heard before Judge George Thompson in circuit court Wednesday evening on the injunction restraining Oneida county from issuing the $140,000 bonds voted for highways at the spring election. Judge Thompson will render his decision next week. S. S. Miller appeared as attorney for A. W. Brown and others and District Attorney A. J. O'Melia appeared for the county.

THREE LAKES PAIR DIVORCED

Rosie Ciezelski was granted a divorce from her husband, Theodore Ciezelski, on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. The couple are old residents of the town of Three Lakes.

The court found the value of the property of the parties $3,800 and awarded the woman $1,400 and costs of the proceedings.

Henry E. Foster was granted a divorce from his wife, Helen, on the same ground. The husband lives in Rhinelander and the wife in Seattle.

GET WORD TO HOLD SLACKERS

Instructions have been received by District Attorney A. J. O'Melia to place under arrest any slackers reported. Up to the present time no arrests had been made. All who registered are advised to carry their cards with them, especially when away from home, as to be found without one means immediate arrest and detention until registration can be proved. It will be difficult to replace lost cards as the finders or others not entitled to them may use them for fraudulent purposes.

ROBS OLD MAN GOES TO PRISON

Frank Miller Pleads Guilty
To Taking Savings Of
Fritz Bierbrauer

Frank Miller, a woodsman, pleaded guilty before Judge Thompson in circuit court Tuesday to the charge of robbery and was sentenced to two years in Waupaca prison.

Miller was arrested in Woodruff on June 1, for stealing a gold watch and one hundred and thirty dollars from Bierbrauer, an old settler near Minocqua. The money represented practically the entire life savings of Bierbrauer, who is about seventy years of age. Miller was taken into custody while spending money freely in Woodruff saloons. Bierbrauer's watch and considerable money was found on the prisoner, who admitted his guilt when arrested.

SUMMER SCHOOL BEGINS SESSION

With fifty pupils enrolled summer school is now in session in the Central building to continue six weeks. Supt. C. B. Colburn, Miss Della White and Miss Margaret Coon comprise the teaching staff. The majority of those enrolled are high school students who are making up for failures or doing advanced work. There are also a few grade pupils in attendance.

Rev. J. A. Sarnstrom of the Norwegian Lutheran church is also conducting summer school in the Central building with an enrollment of thirty.

TRAVELING MAN
HURT BY AUTO

George Bohan, a traveling salesman whose home is in Appleton, suffered a broken leg and minor bruises when he was struck by an automobile at the corner of Pelham and Anderson streets Monday afternoon. Bohan was taken to St. Mary's hospital where he received surgical attention.

Miss Hazel Keep was the driver of the car which hit Bohan. It is said that the man was crossing the street when the accident occurred. He was knocked down and pinned under the machine. Those who saw the accident tell conflicting stories and the exact details have not been ascertained.

MRS. THURSTON
DIES IN WAUPACA

Mrs. Daniel Thurston passed away Sunday at the Waupaca Veterans' Home where she had resided for the last four years. She had been ill three weeks and her death was the result of a general decline due to advanced age.

Mrs. Thurston was born in 1832. For twenty-four years she was a resident of Rhinelander and leaves a large number of old friends here to mourn her demise. Her husband died in 1913 in Kansas City, Mo. He was a veteran of the Civil War.

Mrs. Thurston was a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution. She is survived by one son, Charles Thurston and two grandchildren, Mrs. W. D. Juday, and Roy Thurston of this city. The funeral was held in Weyauwega Tuesday under the auspices of the D. A. R.

ESCAPE TO GOODMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McLaughlin arrived in Goodman on Monday evening. The purpose of their visit to that delightful little town was to escape the noisy crowd that had planned on a "chivera".

While complimenting themselves on the fact that they had thus far succeeded in their efforts, Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin were surprised by a number of Goodman folks who called on the young people at about 9:00 p. m. on Tuesday.

The proceeds of the "chivera" were spent at the ice cream social given by Goodman ladies for the benefit of the Red Cross society.

MERRY-GO-ROUND HERE

A merry-go-round has been placed on N. Stevens street on the vacant lot just south of the M. E. church. This is glad news for the girls and boys.

BURNING CHIMNEY

A chimney fire at the Martin Rats Wednesday forenoon called out Hose Company No. 1. There was no damage.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ross of Manawa and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Strong of Eagle River were visiting at the home of their brother Fred Smith the first of the week.

MRS. A. DAIGLE TAKES OWN LIFE

Mrs. A. Daigle, who with her husband resided in Rhinelander a number of years ago, committed suicide at Long Lake, Forest county, where the family has been living since leaving this city.

The Cranston Republican tells of the tragedy as follows:

Mrs. A. Daigle, of Long Lake, a woman about fifty years of age, committed suicide by shooting herself with a revolver in her husband's saloon at that village last Saturday. Mr. Daigle had just stepped out of the place and Mrs. Daigle had waited on a customer when, without any warning whatever, she went into a back room and killed herself. Sickness is the only motive advanced for her act. The Daigles are old residents of Forest county.

16 NEW CITIES

By the 1st of September the United States army plans to have ready for the conscript army 16 towns or cantonments capable of housing 40,000 men each. No such task to be done in 12 weeks was ever before undertaken. By Sept. 1 more money will be spent than went into the Panama canal in the course of any one year.

These towns can not be the old fashioned camps. It is not tolerable that they shall not have ample water supply and the best of sewerage, and to have it when the boys arrive, but they must have also streets, a railroad, barracks for the men, and quarters for the officers. Each will be a town of about 1,000 houses, as now planned, and all this construction must, as far as essentials go, be ready by the 1st of September.

One of these camps is being built in Wisconsin—at Fort Robinson, just east of Sparta, where the war department owns a reservation many square miles in size, and the wild, hilly country, filled with gullies and covered with underbrush, is ideal for teaching men warfare under conditions as they are likely to meet it at the front.

NOW ARMY NURSE

Miss Marie Eby, daughter of C. Eby, who is a nurse in a hospital in Albuquerque, New Mexico, has been appointed army nurse, and will leave Albuquerque July 1 and go to San Francisco, to join the army staff of nurses at that point preparing to leave about the middle of July for the front in France. Miss Eby was born in this city and is well known here.

WANT MEN IN TRIPOLI

H. H. Stolle was here in his car Wednesday after decorating the scenery twist this spot and his Tripoli mill with "men wanted" invitations. Stolle says laborers are so scarce in proportion to the tasks to be done that men are getting quite choice as to the length and nature of their services, also that after a would be employer rounds up a bunch of say ten, he's lucky if more than one of them sticks. Good wages; lots of work; what matter if prices are high?—Prentice News-Calumet.

CHARLIE GOES TO WAR

Charlie Chaplin, credited with being the highest salaried screen comedian in the world, now refused a new contract with the Mutual Film corporation and has started on his return to England. Chaplin was among the first to register at Los Angeles June 5, and received notice from the British consular that the empire was seeking all its subjects of military age for war. Chaplin was born in England, and is still a British subject. He will leave for New York in company with his brother, Sid Chaplin.

DANCERS AID RED CROSS

One hundred couples attended the dance at the Armory Thursday night given for the benefit of the Red Cross. The Hazel M. Crawford orchestra furnished the music for the party which was one of the most enjoyable of the season. American flags and bunting and Red Cross flags and emblems formed the hall decorations. A neat sum was realized for the Red Cross.

SHOULD BE CAREFUL

For some time to come the woods will be visited by many fishermen and camping parties, so it should behoove everyone to take the utmost care to guard against forest fires, says the Florence Mining News. The game wardens are again engaged in posting notices in the woods calling attention to the danger of fire. Instructions to fishermen to exercise care in lighting fires are given in pamphlets and attention is called to the danger in permitting fires to burn after camp has been broken.

Mrs. Greene, Invalid
Mrs. Greene enjoys poor health. Her husband doesn't know she enjoys it and has consequently been enslaved for years by her pathetic sounding claims of invalidism. His hair has grown white prematurely and he has voluntarily cut himself off from fellowship with his kind and has devoted his leisure time to attempts to lighten the "burdens" of his wife's invalidism. Mrs. Greene's hair retains its youthful color and her delicate skin is as unwrinkled as it was when she was a child.

Mrs. Greene is typical of a large number of American women. She was born on a farm and as a young girl worked as hard as the average young girl on a farm is required to work. Her cheeks were rosy, her eyes flashed with youth and she had the spirit and muscles to romp and play with the most physically fit boys and girls of her neighborhood.

When Mr. and Mrs. Greene were married they had little but youth, energy, and the courage which accompanies good health. They worked hard side by side, and Mrs. Greene did as much as her husband to bring the prosperity which finally came to them. With prosperity came the characteristic American change in living conditions. While the hard working habits of the husband were not changed materially those of the wife were. She had the new position to maintain and this shut out the possibility of her doing any physical work. Without a suitable outlet for her energy under the new conditions, her thoughts struck inward and she developed a new luxury and a new occupation—that of being indisposed. This grew until it dominated her life and that of the household.

The greatest blessing that could occur to the Greenses would be for them to lose their money and their "social position". Under such circumstances, Mrs. Greene would come back fast. In a few weeks she would be fit to take her place in the family organization. Except for some such "calamity", I'm afraid Mrs. Greene will be a hopeless invalid and her husband a helpless slave.

Perhaps you know some of Mrs. Greene's family. It's a large one. If so, pity them, but don't be imposed upon.

Daily Thought

A generous prayer is never presented in vain; the petitioner is always, I believe, rewarded by some gracious visitation.—Stevenson.

PICNIC SUNDAY

The local lodge of the Fraternal Reserve Association will give a picnic at Petke's park on the Wisconsin river next Sunday. Launches from the Johnson & Anderson boat livery will convey picnickers to and from the park.

Gust Swedberg is managing the picnic and has arranged an interesting program of sports which will be held in the afternoon. With good weather a very large crowd will attend the festivities, it is expected.

Took Her Down a Peg

One of the anecdotes in Gamaliel Bradford's "Portraits of Women" describes an encounter between George Ticknor, the Boston publisher, and Lady Holland. "I understand, Mr. Ticknor," said the haughty ruler of London society, "that New England was originally settled by convicts." "I was not aware of that," Ticknor replied promptly, "but I know that some of the Vassalls, your ancestors, were early settlers in Massachusetts."

C. EBY, CITY

BISHOP WELLS SPEAKS ON WAR

Needs And Sacrifices Permeate His Message To Diocesan Council

In his annual address to the Diocesan Council, in session at St. Paul's, Fond du Lac, Bishop Wells was moved to an impassioned discussion of the war, its needs and sacrifices. He declared the council was meeting at the altar of God in the deepening shadows of the world war, a war which he says Christian people can make with a clear conscience.

The bishop's words were as follows:

"Greeting in the Name of Christ: Reverend Brethren and representatives of the laity of the Diocese, I welcome you to the Cathedral Church. We are again met before the altar of God under the shadows of the world war, only the shadow has deepened for our chosen President, Senators and Representatives in Congress have been forced to officially recognize that the German Empire has made war on our country also. Never in history has a great issue been more definite, nor have our people ever been called to arms in a more righteous cause. The issue is between autocracy and democracy. The question is whether 'government of the people, for the people and by the people' shall perish from the earth."

"On this issue a Christian people can make war with a clear conscience. America cannot do otherwise. We have entered the war at its most critical stage, and it looks as though our part in it must try to the uttermost our ability to sacrifice life as well as our comfort and wealth. Our entire navy is now actually engaged. A division of our regular army is probably on its way to Europe. Many thousands of our sons and brothers are in camp being trained and more than ten millions have been enrolled, from whom possibly two millions or more must risk life and limb in the national defense."

"It is a call to sacrifice. We, who in the providence of God, are not called to the battle line cannot sit idly by while our young men are preparing themselves to risk everything that life seemed to have in store for them. Surely the Cross of Christ must mean little to men who can live selfishly in such a crisis! Our sons and brothers in camp and on battlefield must feel our strength behind them! If they show their manhood not by high thinking only, but by high action, surely by plain living and heroic giving we can let them know that the race is worth the great sacrifice we are asking of them. St. Paul bade men labor not that we may live in comfort, but 'that we may have to give.' Not only in the innumerable small ways in which we waste so much, not only in the easy luxury in which we delight to live, not only in the costly apparel of which we are so proud, but in the ordinary comforts and conveniences of life must we learn the meaning of sacrifice. If we are to feed and equip our young men for battle, if we are to supply the famine stricken people of the world, above all if we are to get out of this war some return for the sacrifice of our sons, we must learn ourselves and thus teach others that 'man's life doth not consist in the abundance of the things that he possesseth, that man must learn himself and must practically teach others that idealism and not materialism is the wealth and the glory of our race."

"We ought to have learned this long ago, for the basis of our religion is the fact that the Eternal Son, who 'thought it not robbery to be equal with God,' taking upon Himself human nature, lived among men a life of strenuous labor and self-denial. We ought to have learned kneeling before the altar, where Christ's great sacrifice is in a mystery offered morning by morning to the Eternal Father, that our chief value consists in giving even to the uttermost. What heroes men should be who cling for salvation to the Cross of Christ! But we have not learned it. The Eternal Father who spared not His only begotten Son must teach it to us. I wonder if the fundamental meaning of this war is that 'without shedding of blood there is no remission of sins!' I do not know how men who have not found their intellectual anchorage in Christ can contemplate the world's pain, especially in a war like the present one. Pain is a deep mystery, and it is only when we know that God took our nature, and contemplate His agonized form on the Cross that we can rest our faith in Him. If we cannot understand pain, at least we can trust and love the dear God who has not left men to suffer without Himself, having led the way in heroic sacrifice."

"My Brothers and my sons in the priesthood, my brothers and sons of the faithful laity, I would that the daily sacrifice might arise on every altar in this diocese, and may the dear God teach us that the offering of Christ's great sacrifice should be the chief service of every 'Lord's Day in every church'."

SURPRISE MRS. SILFVERSTEIN
A pleasant surprise was tendered Mrs. C. J. Silfverstein Saturday when the ladies of the Swedish Lutheran church gathered at the parsonage bringing lunches and flowers in great quantities. The occasion was Mrs. Silfverstein's birthday. A pleasant time is reported. The ladies presented Mrs. Silfverstein with a nice sum of money.

MINOCQUA WILL CELEBRATE 4TH

(Minocqua Times)

According to present indications Minocqua and vicinity will commemorate the birth of our nation with a snappy celebration. Remembering the serious mistake of last year, the committee, under the direction of the Minocqua Advance ment Association, has begun to make preparations early. The Rhinelander band has already been employed to furnish stirring music all the day. Efforts to schedule a base ball game with the Rhinelander nine are being made. Arrangements are also being made with several prominent speakers to deliver orations.

Oscar John Dorwin, of Minocqua, Wis., was graduated from Notre Dame University June 11 with the degree of Bachelor of Philosophy. Young Dorwin won many distinctions as a student at Notre Dame. He was pitcher on the varsity baseball team and one of the strongest men in inter-hall football. He also represented Notre Dame in inter-collegiate oratorical contests. He was secretary of his class and a member of the senior committee. He was one of the four men to deliver an oration at the commencement exercises. He is a son of A. O. Dorwin.

An eleven pound baby boy arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Cannon of Milwaukee, Monday, June 11.

Prosper Jossart rented his island to Geo. Iverson of Chicago for the season. The Iverson family arrived here Monday.

The construction of Wilson and Schlecht's new saw mill is now in progress. The dimensions of the saw mill will be 24 feet by 66 feet and those of the planing mill 12 feet by 24 feet.

The mill will be up-to-date in every respect. With the exception of the steam engine and boiler, all of the old machinery has been disposed of, and will be replaced by a new husk, edger, trimmer, carriage, planer, wood conveyor and saw-dust conveyor. The machinery will be on the grounds not later than next week.

It is expected that the construction work will be completed by the middle of July.

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Dorwin of this place attended the graduation of their son, Oscar, from Notre Dame University. They were accompanied by their sons, Milan and Emil, and daughter, Agnes.

William H. Fisher, Jr., enlisted in the U. S. Engineering Department at Minneapolis Wednesday. He is now on his way to Atlanta, Ga.

Jacob Huber of this place is now building a modern farm home on his farm near the State Fish Hatchery, Wm. E. Lawrence of Adams county is overseeing the work. The Dixon family of Indianapolis arrived Monday for their annual vacation at their summer home on this lake.

WOMEN'S NERVES

Women, more than men, have excitable nerves, because tiring work and physical strain tax their more delicate nervous systems and bring premature age and chronic weakness—unless treated intelligently.

Drug-laden pills and alcoholic concoctions cannot build up a woman's strength, but the concentrated medicinal food properties in build strength from its very source and are helping thousands of women to gain control of their nerve power—overcome tiredness, nervousness, impatience and irritability.

A good many people are looking into what makes men change over to W-B CUT and stick to it so. Tobacco is tobacco, but all chewing, isn't all tobacco. You don't have gummy excess sweetening to chew out of W-B CUT, before you get down to satisfaction. The shreds are tobacco, through and through—and the richest, sappiest tobacco that grows. You notice the difference at once—W-B CUT goes twice as far as ordinary plug.

TRIPOLI MAN'S CLOSE CALL. What might have been a horrible, if not a fatal accident, happened Monday morning at the Tripoli mill when Milton Thorbus plunged backward through an open hatchway of an elevator. And had it not been for the fact that the liquid in that vat had been cooled by several hours' exposure to the cool air over its hatches, also by having several fresh logs dumped into it, the young man instead of needing only a couple of weeks' time to heal his superficial burns would be facing an entirely different proposition—if he was alive to face any.—Prentice News-Calamet.

Force of Habit.

"Habit," remarked Binkers, "is a strange thing. Last night I was awakened by a blind which kept banging against the side of the house. Jumping out of bed, I ran over to the window and raised the sash, only to learn that the fastening was broken. There was no twine handy, but I managed, after a while, to secure the shutter with my necktie. This morning when I went to get my tie to put on, I found it hadn't it tied into a four-in-hand!"

Daily Average of Wind.

Some builders of windmills estimate that a wind 16 miles an hour may be expected for eight hours per day on the average for every day in the year. This does not mean that such a wind can be relied upon every day in the year, but that the average wind all the year round would equal 16 miles an hour for eight hours every day.

"For the cause that lacks assistance;

Mr. Hoover spoke before the U. S. Senate the first of the week in the interest of the food control bill. He said the people were being robbed of fifty million dollars per month by excessive food prices, and had been for the past five months.

We believe the council fairly represented the taxpayers last Friday night, when by a unanimous vote they decided to give Senator Stevens fifteen thousand dollars to assist in rebuilding his mill. In the month of May over twenty-three thousand dollars were spent for labor by Stevens Lumber company, and the Mason-Donaldson company.

If the Stevens mill were not rebuilt, it would mean the loss of that concern and the bulk of the business of the Mason-Donaldson Lumber Company.

We are glad to see that those two reliable concerns are to remain in Rhinelander.

NINETEEN FINISH TRAINING SCHOOL

Seventh Annual Graduation Exercises Will Be Held Next Week

The seventh annual commencement of the county training school for teachers is set for next Thursday evening at the Congregational church. At eight o'clock, the program will open with a chorus by the school and the invocation by Rev. Chas. H. Wicks. The schools will present two other musical selections and two members of the class will speak. The salutatory address has been assigned to Emily Mackin, and the valedictory address to Hattie Keppler, who is one of the seven members of the class entering as graduates from Rhinelander high school, and who ranks highest in scholarship. Miss Keppler is also the pianist for the school. Miss Mackin, who ranks second in the class, entered this school from the Madison high school where she graduated last year.

The commencement speaker is Dr. D. D. MacLaurin of Madison, secured by the training school board through the University of Wisconsin. Principal Mackin, who has heard Dr. MacLaurin many times, announces that one of the greatest orators of the country has been secured for this commencement.

F. A. Lowell, county superintendent of schools and secretary of the training school board will present the diplomas to the graduates who are nineteen in number, nine of whom are high school graduates also. These secure certificates to teach for five years without further examinations and others get certificates for three years. In each case the teachers must be successful in their work, which is required of all teachers, those from the county and from the state normals as well. The graduates will all secure positions.

The program will close with a benediction by Rev. Campbell Gray. The public is invited to hear this program.

Other commencement events are as follows: Sunday evening, June 24, at the Congregational church, the sermon to the graduates by Rev. Chas. H. Wicks.

Class day program, Tuesday, at eight o'clock in the evening, will be presented to all friends of the school who will come. This is to be at the training school building.

On Friday evening, after commencement, there will be a banquet at the Oneida Hotel for the graduates of the school since 1911. It is expected that all who are in this vicinity will attend. There will be a talk from some member of each class, down to the present class which will be represented by Ruth Bennett of Three Lakes.

Miss Bennett is a graduate of the Rhinelander high school and is among the highest in the class this year. An interesting program is being prepared and this will be an opportunity for the former members of the school to get better acquainted with the class now being graduated.

Miss Lila Kolden is home from Milwaukee Downer to spend the vacation.

NEWSY NOTES OF NEARBY TOWNS

Clintonville—

The Four Wheel Drive Auto Co. of this city, is now building eighty trucks for the United States government and the entire plant of this company is within forbidden territory. That is no person who is an alien is allowed within one-half mile of the factory without a permit from the federal authorities. It will therefore be necessary for any German not born in this country and who has not taken out his second papers to secure a permit to remain within the forbidden territory, which is one-half mile from the factory.

Hurley—

According to Sergeant Hayden, who is in charge of the Ashland recruiting office for the regular army, Mrs. Margaret Sullivan, post mistress at Hurley, has the honor of leading all other postmistresses in the United States in the number of recruits secured for the army during the month of May. During last month Mrs. Sullivan sent 38 young men to the Ashland recruiting office and of that number only two were rejected because of failure to pass the examination. She has already enlisted five young men, this month, who have been sent to Ashland to take the examination for the regular army and bids fair to keep up her record of May and again obtain the honor of leading all other postmistresses of the country in the number of recruits secured for Uncle Sam's service.

Crandon—

Sam Sturdevant, a Crandon Indian boy, had a painful and extraordinary experience at Phillips, this week. He and Ed. Maxim were cutting excelsior bolts; Sam took a few hours off and went hunting with the result that he stepped into a huge bear trap from which he could not escape. He was four and one half miles from camp. He started dragging the trap and had worked his way along two and one half miles when he met a squaw. He could not make her understand so he burnt the end of a stick and wrote with it on a piece of birch bark these words, "I am hurt, come quick," and sent her towards his partner Maxim. The squaw succeeded in finding the camp and got help for the injured boy. It took four men to get him out of the trap, and he was in it seventeen hours in all. His shoe heel saved his foot considerably but he is on crutches from the result of the cuts of the trap teeth.

Stevens Point—

With only a part of a hat, the upper part of his shirt torn off and rents in his trousers, revealing his limbs, and with his sockless feet in big rubber boots, Virgin Cooper, who escaped from a Michigan asylum in October 1916, appeared on the streets of Amherst Monday. The man was quickly taken into custody by the marshal. To County Clerk Bourn, in a communicative moment, he said that he had had a strange experience during the winter with snow snakes. "Snow snakes? What's them?" asked his visitor. "They are large snakes, who lie in the snow where you can't see them. They will suddenly wind themselves around a man going by, then wind their tail around a tree, and they hold a fellow like that until he freezes to death. Gosh, I had a narrow escape."

Antigo—

Lloyd Breck, eighty years of age, a veteran of the Civil War and many years ago a resident of Antigo, rode over to this city from Merrill on horseback Wednesday for a visit with comrades of the Kellogg Post and other friends here. Mr. Breck, nearer "eighty years young" said he felt no bad effects from the long ride on horseback—a manner of traveling rapidly becoming more unusual in these days of motors. Mr. Breck is a member of the G. A. R. Post at Merrill where a capm of Sons of Veterans was organized a year ago by Antigo Sons of Veterans.

Store Editorial

There have been few years in the past when price was so tremendously important as at the present period.

The high cost of living has made it necessary that every household allowance buy the utmost in supplies.

And yet, prices are—as they always have been—a second consideration when quality is concerned. Of what avail would a low price be if satisfying quality is not there.

You must secure merchandise of known and dependable quality first and then, through comparisons and other investigations, see that the price is fair and reasonable.

We invite the closest inspection of our merchandise and prices on this basis.

PAY CASH

Philadelphia Ledger: Your great grandfather carrier the market basket on his arm and your great-grandmother never saw a delivery wagon from any store. There was none.

Today, one Philadelphia merchant will pay over $10,000 to carry home his customer's packages. It costs us not more than one cent to bring an orange more than 3,000 miles from California, but your fruit dealer, two blocks away will charge you double that commission to bring it to the house.

Three busy tax-gatherers who dip into your pocket every day are "Have it charged," "Have it exchanged," "Have it delivered."

Merchants cannot work for pleasure alone, and when you insist—when 2,000,000 other people in and about Philadelphia insist—that you shall have your commodities "charged," "exchanged" and "delivered" it is goodnight economy.

Pay cash. Keep what you buy and carry your packages home, and the price of every commodity will fall.

Here is a parody on "The Saloon Bar," written by one who knows, that is, Jerome Fish: "It's a bar to heaven and a door to hell, whoever named it named it well. A bar to manliness and wealth, a door to want and broken health; a bar to honor, pride and fame, a door to sin and grief and shame; a bar to hope a bar to praise, a door to drunkenness and disgrace; a bar to honest, useful life, a door to senseless brawling strife; a bar to joy that home imparts, a door to tears and aching hearts. A bar to heaven, a door to hell—whichever named it named it well."

What Two Noted Men Have Said Of Boozing

Bishop Phillips Brooks: "If we should sweep intemperance out of our country, there would be hardly poverty enough left to give healthy exercise to our charitable impulses."

Archbishop Ireland: "The great cause of social crime is drink. The great cause of poverty is drink. When I hear of a family broken up, and ask the cause—drink. If I go to the gallows and ask its victim the cause, the answer—drink. Then I ask myself in perfect wonderment, Why do not men put a stop to this thing?"

John Deere Cultivators

Realizing that different seasons and crop conditions require different types of cultivator blades, Deere & Company have made a special study of these conditions for years in order to supply cultivator equipment that will handle the soil in a manner so that maximum crops will result.

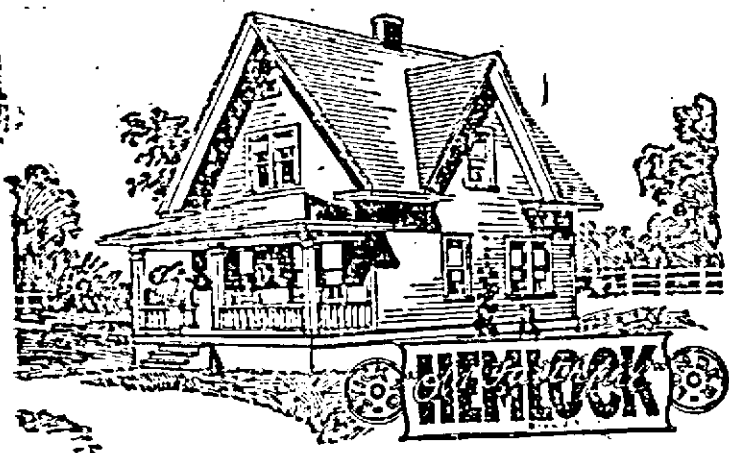

Various styles of equipment have been perfected that do this work better and more economically.

The John Deere Method of Cultivation is the result of years of study in soil culture and practical experience in cultivator building.

The method is thorough and does away with the necessity of several special, complete implements. Any standard John Deere Cultivator can be equipped with these various combinations so that it can be used for deep or shallow cultivation, heavy or light soils. It does away with the necessity of a surface cultivator or any other machines used for special work in cultivation.

VOICES GERMAN LOYALTY TO U. S.

Judge Barnes Says Teutons Will Be At Forefront For Nation

People of German extraction have been at the forefront in making this a mighty nation and they will be at the forefront in maintaining it.

So declares John Barnes, former justice of the Wisconsin supreme court, in an address on "Patriotism" at the Flag day exercises of the Milwaukee Elks' lodge. He assailed persons responsible for arousing undeserved prejudice against citizens of German extraction. "During the present crisis Milwaukee has been given a good deal of undeserved notoriety," said Judge Barnes. "I believe our people are as loyal as any other people and that now that the test is here 99.11 of them will ring true. It is lamentable that a few loud-mouthed, empty-headed nobodies can in times like these arouse a wholly undeserved prejudice against a large class of the most loyal citizens we have. The sacrifice of the American soldier of German extraction in this war will be greater than that of any other because he will always strike in sorrow—never in anger, but at the same time he will strike hard."

"Not least among the tribulations of the people of whom I am speaking is the ease with which false and lying are circulated and the credulity with which they are received. Nearly all of our people are descendants of nations now at war. They feel kindly toward the mother country, even if it was only a step-mother to them, and this feeling has been handed down from generation to generation by those who migrated here many years ago. Naturally our people sympathize with the land of their forefathers. Naturally too, they are prone to believe the things they read and like to believe and to disbelieve the things that are distasteful. America owes much to its people of German ancestry. No foreign nation has given us better citizens. But the 'die is cast.' So far as war was only a possibility all reasonable efforts to preserve peace were highly commendable. The time for discussion has passed and that for action has arrived. He who is not for America is against it. We should recognize no neutrals among our citizens. "Patriotism does not consist in wearing a button in the lapels of our coats, nor yet in telling our neighbors how patriotic we feel. Patriotism means effort and sacrifice and willingness to part with something. The man who contributes 10 cents that he can ill afford, is more of a patriot than the man who contributes $10, the loss of which he does not feel."

THE RED CROSS

(By Louise E. Brand)

I am the great warm throbbing heart Of all humanity. I am its kindly hands, Its tender voice, Its swift-shod feet That hasten where the cry Of those who bravely suffer Tells their need. I am your envoy, Doing in your stead The things you long to do. Yet lack the power To do, unaided and alone, Your messenger of hope and cheer, Of very life itself To those who stand In deadly peril And to those who fall Defending you and all that you hold dear. Where battles rage And blood war exacts its toll Of human life, I stand as Love From Home. A grateful people's tribute And acknowledgment Of debt that never can be paid To those who give their all When they face death that a great Cause may live; Yes, who give more. For those who give themselves Give also part Of those who love them, And the wounds of heroes on the battle fields. Are not the only wounds That bleed in war. And shall you be content With easy gifts That cost you little, You, who sit in safety And in peace, dear bought By those who fight upon the firing line. That you may work at home? Shall you give service Less than is your best. Refuse to consecrate The things you hold Less precious far than life—Your all, if needs must be. To strengthen those who are your strength and stay In this dark hour? O, will you stay your hand When slaying your binds, mine And send me forth inadequate To do your work? Nay, that I'll not believe. A noble mission you have given me And you will arm me with the power To serve you worthily. I am the finest impulse of your soul The incarnation of the Brotherhood of Man.

SCANDINAVIAN NEWS

SUMMARY OF IMPORTANT HAPPENINGS IN FAR OFF NORTHLAND.

ITEMS FROM THE OLD HOME

Resume of the Most Important Events in Sweden, Norway and Denmark—Of Interest to the Scandinavians in America.

FINLAND.

The social democrats in the Finnish landtag and senate are working on reforms intended to ameliorate the condition of the Jews in Finland. Their condition has been deplorable ever since the good old days, when Finland belonged to Sweden. The Swedish laws were good because the Swedes were always kind to the Jews, but after the Russian domination of Finland the Jews lost their citizenship and until the present revolution were able to live only six months consecutively in one Finnish town. Then they had to move on and were obliged to ask the governor where they should go. If the governor refused to grant them permission the Jews were obliged to leave the country. The Finnish reforms in hand include measures to make the senate responsible to the landtag, where formerly the senate was responsible only to the Russian emperor. It also is proposed to separate the supreme judicial power from the senate and establish an absolutely independent supreme court, thus removing the uncertainty long felt in Finland as to the purity of justice. Whenever a senate member is accused of malfeasance he is to be brought before a tribunal comprising 12 members of the landtag. The new measures also propose the granting to the landtag of the right of real interpellations, which the government must answer. Since 1907 the government has never answered one of the many interpellations that have been made. The hastening of the complete prohibition of the liquor traffic is in prospect. Despite these salutary measures the Helsingfors Huvudstadsblad bitterly arraigns the social democrats, saying the discontent with them is rising because they are enlisting rowdies as police and calling the Russian soldiers to act against the Finnish citizens. It says the social democrats have no respect for private rights and says they are as bad as any time, concluding ominously: "Those things will be put in the storehouse of the members."

In addition to its tragedy, the situation in the Finnish town of Abo, population 50,000, where the strikers have seized control, is developing comic opera features. The town council had a meeting to consider the situation, but there was no quorum, whereupon the strikers elected 50 new councilors from their own ranks, whom the old councilors refused to recognize. The strikers then locked the old councilors in the city hall under the guard of 50 cossacks, saying, "Now stay there until you can think out a plan for co-operating with us." The electric light service has been restored with the consent of the strikers because the soldiers wanted to give a ball. Butter, milk and eggs are unobtainable. Ten Swedish ships which sought to unload their cargoes at Abo were sent north by soldiers to Raumo, where there is less disturbance. Abo normally is the most used Finnish harbor.

SWEDEN.

Hjalmar Branting, the socialist leader, asked in the riksdag June 5 whether the government was prepared to proceed with revision of the constitution, abolishing the graded franchise in municipalities and giving women the riksdag franchise. J. L. Wennerstrom, socialist, inquired whether the government would enforce payment of higher wages for laborers, a shorter work day and "a political reorganization, including thorough constitutional reforms by which the people's demand for democratic reforms shall be granted as soon as possible." The answer of Premier Swartz to all the questions was a qualified negative. The present political situation, he said, demanded that the ministry give its chief attention to foreign relations so that importations of foodstuffs and raw material should be assured. The cabinet hoped internal questions could await solution after the crisis. The question of abolishing property qualifications and other restrictions of the municipal franchise, the premier continued, deeply affected communal rights and taxation, and had been rejected by the present session. The premier further pointed out that a new election of members of the second chamber would be held shortly, giving the people an opportunity to register its will. For days the left socialists had been urging the workers to quit and demonstrate before the riksdag building when the above was taking place inside.

A new forestry school has been dedicated in Stockholm. The king, the crown prince and many other prominent men attended the ceremonies. The school is located on the shore of North Bruusviken, where there were a number of monumental buildings before.

Engineer H. Rustige has invented a method of treating spirit of sulphur in such a manner that it may be used instead of benzine for running automobiles. It is not necessary to change the motor.

Many factories stopped work at 1 p. m. and the employees marched to the riksdag. They found the approaches to the building and the royal palace guarded by police and soldiers. The crowd was noisy and threatening and tried to overturn a street car. The mounted police charged and drove the crowd back, while M. Branting emerged from the riksdag and vainly attempted to persuade the demonstrators to leave. There was much bottle and stone throwing, but the mob finally melted away. The police said most of the rioters were youths. United States Minister Ira N. Morris was obliged to flee to avoid being involved in the melee. The socialists of the left wing decided after the riot was quelled to demand a general strike throughout Sweden, but the men who went out Tuesday from the large factories are reported to have resumed work.

Sweden's merchant fleet lost, either through war or by accident, in the first three months of this year, 13 steamers with a total tonnage of 22,333; two motor-driven vessels with a total of 2,623 tons, and six sailing vessels aggregating 1,153 tons. Including prize courts, and other vessels withdrawn from service, the whole fleet has been reduced by 43 units. The excess of tonnage lost over newly built or purchased tonnage amounts to 15,429 tons. Many sailors, seeing no outlook for work under present conditions, have temporarily given up the sea and taken positions inland, many of them going to farms.

NORWAY.

The burning of the nickel factory at Kristiansand took place under circumstances which were interesting, to say the least. The Christiansia Tidens Tegn had one of its contributors ask the director of the factory if there was noway of "getting the country out of the tragical position of having Norwegian seamen killed by means of Norwegian nickel." The Tidens Tegn next explained that the nickel factory had made a contract to sell the entire production to Germany for a number of years, but that the government could of course prohibit the exportation of nickel to Germany, where the nickel was used in the manufacture of torpedoes. The paper added that it did not make much difference either way as to the manufacture of torpedoes, but even the smallest contribution by Norway was humiliating to the Norwegian people and an outrage to their best feelings. The next day the wires told that the factory had been burnt down.

Polite burglars. A log cabin in the woods near Mosjo, Ringrike, had plainly been visited by burglars. The door lock had been broken, and on the table was a paper with the following information: "We came here on a dark evening and were unable to proceed, so we had to break in. Hope that the accompanying $1.35 will reach the proper parties as thanks for the use. Beg your pardon. Three gentlemen." The owners of the hut announced that they too wished to thank the burglars for their fine conduct. If all burglars acted this way the reputation of their trade would no doubt pass through a wonderful metamorphosis.

Hundreds of thousands of Norwegians throughout the nation took part in peaceful demonstrations June 6 demanding governmental restriction on food prices and continuance of Norway's neutrality. There were 50,000 paraders in Christiansia alone. A deputa-tion of the demonstrators was received by the president of the storthing.

The 7,500-ton steel ship, Storriken, built by the Seattle Construction and Dry Dock company for the Haakon Walten company of Bergen, Norway, was launched at Seattle recently. The Storriken's keel was laid last February.

DENMARK.

Denmark is in a difficult position as regards fuel, said Minister of Interior Rode, in a speech on the fuel situation, in which he pointed to the necessity of economy in consumption, and said that steps in that direction had been taken. Hope for relief from American sources was expressed by the minister.

Only a few years ago the people of Grindsted would have laughed if anybody had talked about the value of real estate by the square foot. Now the railroad has changed all that, and in the center of the village ground has actually been sold at the rate of 61 cents a square foot.

A practical joke was played on a German sea captain at Aarhus. He was permitted by the customhouse officials to take 200 pounds of potatoes with him. But when he left the place he tried to carry away 150 pounds extra. The officials were on the lookout, however, and the potatoes were stopped as they reached the ship. The captain not only lost the potatoes but also had to pay a fine of $50.

The discovery of lignite coal at Herning resulted in a great boom for the place. Everybody talks lignite. Everybody wants to buy lignite land. A widow holding a parcel of ground for which she had paid $5,000 was offered $50,000, but she resolutely asked $50,000. The quality of the coal is good, there is no doubt on that score. But as to the amount of it? Well, as a matter of fact it is dug out of the ground so fast that the transportation facilities from the place are practically swamped.

POULTRY

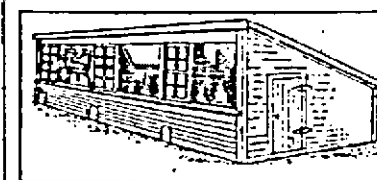

WINTER REVENUE FROM HENS

First Essential is Proper Quarters for Fowls—Dry Leaves Make Ideal Scratching Material.

A scarcity of eggs in winter is a loss that every true poultry keeper tries to avoid. Being the only source of revenue expected from the flock at this time of the year, everyone is anxious to have a good supply, and with proper care and feed, satisfactory results can reasonably be expected.

Proper quarters in which to house the hens is the first and foremost necessary essential. The house should be kept clear of dirt and rubbish, and the nests sweet and clean. A cold dry hen house provided it is free from drafts, is to be preferred to a damp, warm one, as the latter is sure to bring disease to your flock.

In the dust bath—which must always be provided in winter—should be mixed reliable house powder, to keep

Modern Poultry House.

hens free from vermin. A house-infested fowl positively won't lay and is a losing proposition, always.

Make the hens work for every single bit of food they get in winter, it will prevent them becoming too fat and helps keep up a vigorous circulation, preventing a chilled and shivering fowl.

Hot food in winter is imperative;
every morning and night it should be fed piping hot. In the morning feed a dry mash, made by boiling small potatoes, beets, turnips, vegetable parings and the like, thickened with bran or other middlings. This mash should be fed in clean troughs, placed high enough to make the hens hustle to reach them. Hens delight to scratch in a litter of dry leaves and it makes the most ideal scratch-material. Small grain generously scattered in a deep litter of leaves will keep the flock happily busy and contented the whole day through.

For the last feed in the day corn is the most satisfactory, imparting the heat so necessary for the well-being of the fowl during the cold, bitter winter nights. The best way to feed corn is to place it in the oven on the cob and leave it until it is baked a nice delicate brown. The savory odor of baked corn is very appetizing, and when the ears are cut up in short lengths and fed thus to the fowls it will keep them busy to pick up the grains.

Water must be provided in abundant. Of course, it is a difficult matter to keep water before the hens in zero weather, when it freezes almost as soon as it is put out, but you must provide it often enough to insure each fowl getting its full share.

WINTER QUARTERS FOR HENS

House Described and Illustrated That Accommodates Fifty White Leghorns Comfortably.

I believe I have the best henhouse for health, comfort and capacity, cost considered. I have kept 50 White Leghorns in it for the last four winters and never had a frozen comb, nor a case of roup, writes F. R. Campbell of Nebraska in Missouri Valley Farmer.
The house is 10 feet wide, 12 feet deep, 4 feet high at the eaves and 7 at the ridge. There is a 12-inch board at the bottom in the open end and under the west door so that no litter is wasted.

House and Floor Plan.

A piece of 1-inch mesh wire netting is needed on the south side. The window on the east side may be removed during the summer for ventilation. The roof is covered with patent roofing costing $1.10 a square, and there are absolutely no open cracks for drafts on either side except the south.
Once or twice a week a forkful of millet or alfalfa is thrown in to the hens and wheat or oats scattered over this every morning. The hens are busy the coldest days. When a strong south wind comes up the windows and doors are closed. Once a month I take out the roosts and nests which are nail kegs, and spray with coal oil. The low roof confines the body heat developed and keeps the hens warm, at the same time being high enough for an attendant to do his work.

MAKE WORK EASIER

Rhinelander People Are Pleased to Learn How It Has Been Done
It's pretty hard to attend to duties
With a constantly aching back;
With annoying urinary disorders.
Doan's Kidney Pills have made work easier.

So thousands have gratefully testified.

They're for bad backs.
They're for weak kidneys.
Rhinelander people gratefully recommend Doan's.

Mrs. O. C. Schultz, 101 Thayer St., Rhinelander, says: "My back ached so badly that I could work only for a little while in the morning and I could just barely drag myself around. I had dull pains over my kidneys, extending into my hips and limbs and these pains seemed to take every bit of energy and strength. My kidneys didn't act right and I had inflammation of the bladder. I was feeling poorly in every way when I got Doan's Kidney Pills. They relieved me quickly and after I used one box I could do my housework and get around without difficulty."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Schultz had. Foster-Mc-

All He Had Time to Do.
My grandson, four years old, was knocked over by a motor bicycle a few months ago. He was unconscious, but not hurt seriously. A few days later, when he was feeling pretty good, I asked him why he did not think of it that his papa had forbidden him to go across the street. "Oh, grandpa,
I had no time to think. I could only quick close my eyes," he answered.
Cleveland Leader.

Pressing Invitation.
He—"You have a very bad cold."
She—"Yes; and I'm glad of it." He—
"Why, pray?" She—"Because I'm too hoarse to scream if you should attempt to kiss me."

COME out in the kitchen a minute and glance at the sirloin steak, or the lamb chops, or the little sausages just delivered by the butcher boy.

They're all right, of course; but not ready for you. But wait until they've been broiled. Ah, that's different, isn't it?

We're bringing this into your mind so you'll understand exactly why we toast the tobacco for Lucky Strike cigarettes. We found that toasting tobacco (just like broiling meat) brought out flavor, made it more appetizing, more tempting.

Not only that. Toasting the Burley tobacco seals in the flavor so you always have it fresh, as well as more delightful.

You like your meat cooked, don't you? And you'll like your tobacco toasted after this.

Try the Lucky Strike cigarette. Your tongue tells you it's delightful because:

It's toasted
